

Regulations Governing the Implementation of the “Education on Academic and Research Ethics” Course at National Tsing Hua University

1. To ensure that master’s and doctoral students at National Tsing Hua University are equipped with research ethics literacy, the University has stipulated a set of regulations governing the implementation of the “Education on Academic and Research Ethics” course (“the Course” hereafter).
2. From Academic Year 2015, all master’s and doctoral students must register for the Course during their first year of enrollment.
3. Students must watch pre-recorded lessons online. The Course confers zero credit. All students taking the Course must pass the exams online. Students who fail the exams must re-take the tests and complete all other Course requirements before their application of the degree exam. Failing to complete and pass the Course, students may not apply for their degree exam.

These Regulations shall be stipulated by the University Curriculum Committee and implemented after the approval of the Council of Academic Affairs.

In case of discrepancy between the Chinese and English texts, the Chinese text shall prevail.
