

邱英明 (Ing-Ming Chiu)

Distinguished Investigator and Director,
Stem Cell Research Center, National Health Research Institutes, Chunan, Miaoli
350 Taiwan

Education

1981-1985 Postdoc, National Cancer Institute, Bethesda
1974-1981 Ph.D., Florida State University, Tallahassee
1971-1974 B.S., National Taiwan University, Taipei

Professional Experiences

2005-present Distinguished Investigator and Director, Stem Cell Research Center, National Health Research Institutes, Taiwan
1995-present Professor, Departments of Internal Medicine and Molecular and Cellular Biochemistry, The Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio
1997-2002 Director, Brain Tumor Gene Therapy Program, The Ohio State University Arthur G. James Cancer Hospital and Research Institute, Columbus, Ohio
1991-1995 Associate Professor, Departments of Internal Medicine, Medical Biochemistry and Molecular Genetics and Comprehensive Cancer Center, The Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio
1986-1991 Assistant Professor, Departments of Internal Medicine, Medical Biochemistry and Molecular Genetics and Comprehensive Cancer Center, The Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio
1985-1986 Senior Investigator, Angiogenesis Research and Development Center, Springfield, Virginia
1981-1985 Postdoctoral Fellow, National Cancer Institute, NIH, Bethesda, Maryland